The conceit is that Foley and Riches are recasting the archetypes portrayed on WWE programming as characters in a sprawling crime fiction story in the fictional Titan City (named after WWE's Titan Tower headquarters in Stamford, Connecticut. It follows three main characters based on (arguably) WWE's three biggest stars. John Cena is a man wrongly imprisoned and suspected of having hidden $10 million dollars that everybody wants in a briefcase that is essentially "money in the bank." Randy Orton is a jerk running for D.A. against Alberto Del Rio. CM Punk is a street-level he